since services can be unlimited while revenue is finite and we will no doubt do that in 2008. The environment is a current issue and so I expect we will be looking at energy savings, recycling and how to allocate our limited waste disposal options.

There will be another

CERT (Community Emergency Response Team) class in April and I would like to see the three council members who have not taken the class enroll. It is difficult to turn on the TV without seeing news of a disaster somewhere. As a city, we need to be trained and ready. This is one of the subjects I will address more extensively in future columns.

The economic development of the downtown is a continuing topic for discussion and action. We are seeing residential building downtown. This will put people downtown 24/7. I see this expanding with residential uses above retail stores.

I envision 2008 as another year of great achievement for the city of Clayton and its residents. I will try to keep these columns lucid and concise without being verbose. If anyone has thoughts on these columns or would like me to address some pressing subject in the future, you can e-mail me at claytonmayor2008@comcast.net.

I look forward to hearing from you and to a great year for Clayton.
